"I cannot say enough about the quality of Reece's training sessions, especially of the focus on skills and attention to my daughter's specific needs. He is a very talented teacher with a unique ability to break down and explain skills in a way the kids can understand. My daughter's offensive skills increased dramatically due to her work with Reece. He has left her with a lasting knowledge, passion, and a love for the game." -Stacie Skawinski, Great Falls, MT

"I have been around basketball my whole life. My father is a coach and my brother and I both played at the collegiate level. Reece Gliko is a great teacher and engages young players and passes along valuable basketball skills. In observing him, I have also gained coaching techniques and learned new drills which I have implemented while coaching my own team. It is no surprise to me that one of his students received a basketball scholarship to Stanford University." - Brett Hatler, Great Falls MT

"Work with Coach Gliko is a huge confidence booster for basketball players of all ages. I'm not talking about the "warm fuzzy, makes you feel good" kind, but the solid confidence that comes from working harder at something than you ever felt possible while at the same time being supported by a style of leadership that continually communicates the value and worth that he sees in his players as individuals. It is an experience that I wish every kid in America could have. Intricately interwoven in Reece's passion for coaching basketball is his ability to teach a life of integrity through the example he sets."
